Who We Are

About Us

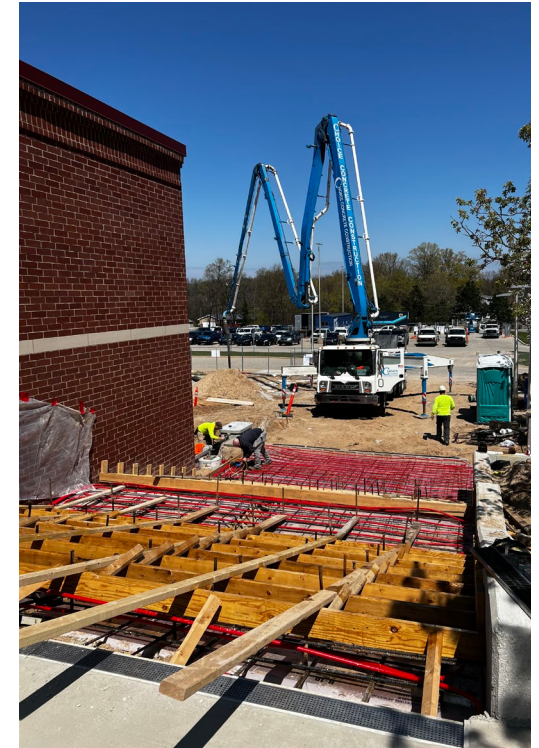

In June 1996, Jeff LaJoye and Larry Duda came together to start Choice Concrete. Jeff and Larry brought a combined 18 years of experience in the concrete industry. Choice Concrete has since grown to be a leader in all forms of concrete construction; foundations, flatwork, and sitework.

About Jeff

I am 58 years old and love pouring concrete today as much as I did when I started 36 years ago. I am extremely passionate about it. I am excited to teach our craft to new people. I am also excited to see young men & women excel in the industry. I believe firmly that no one person is more important than the next. We like to train all employees to know all areas of concrete and find the right fit for everyone. I always make myself available for any conversations or concerns. I love to get to know all employees, it is particularly important to me to know people not only as an employee but more importantly a person.
